WHY VIETNAM?

VIETEDU KEY FEATURES

- A specialized exhibition focused on the baby and maternity sector, offering practical networking opportunities with business buyers
- Direct engagement with Vietnamese consumers to assess market response and validate product competitiveness
- Enhanced brand awareness and credibility among Vietnamese parents with children as the core target audience

RISING DEMAND FOR INTERNATIONAL EDUCATION

Vietnam's international education market continues strong growth, with over 120 international schools from kindergarten to high school meeting rising demand from families in major cities. Vietnamese parents are among the most willing to invest in education in the region, with many households allocating a large share of income toward quality schooling and international pathways.

HIGH PARENTAL WILLINGNESS TO INVEST

Vietnamese families spend on average around 20% of their disposable income on children's education — significantly higher than many neighboring countries — reflecting strong willingness to invest in quality learning, English proficiency, and future-ready skills.

LARGE MARKET WITH STRONG GROWTH MOMENTUM

Vietnam's EdTech and digital education market is valued at several billion USD, with the online education segment projected to reach ~USD 397 million in revenue by 2025 and user numbers rising toward ~12 million by 2029. Vietnam ranks among the top 10 fastest-growing EdTech markets globally and top 3 in Southeast Asia.

STRATEGIC ASEAN GATEWAY

With a predominantly young and digitally connected population (79% internet penetration), a growing middle class, and increasing digital adoption, Vietnam is a key entry point for global education providers seeking access to ASEAN learners.
